Why has the financial institution received this notice?

The property owner wishes to install energy efficiency, water conservation, renewable energy upgrades, or public safety and resiliency improvements to the property using the Commercial Property-Assessed Capital Enhancements (C-PACE) program. C-PACE requires any senior lenders who hold debt on the property to consent to the tax assessment.

What is C-PACE?

C-PACE is an alternative financing mechanism for property upgrades that improve energy efficiency, conserve water, utilize renewable energy, and/or install public safety and resiliency improvements. C-PACE makes it possible for qualified property owners to obtain low-cost, long-term financing funded by private capital providers. C-PACE is paid back via a special tax assessment on the property.

Why do lenders consent to C-PACE?

1. Financed C-PACE Measures Reduce Building Operating Costs

C-PACE projects are designed to save the property owner money by improving their systems. By making these improvements, the whole of the building is more energy efficient, cost effective, and resilient.

2. C-PACE Assessments Cannot be Accelerated/Eliminated

While the full assessment amount is recorded on the property records, only the annual payment may be collected, even in a default situation. So, much like with property taxes, senior lenders are only behind that annual assessment payment and not the full balance of the financing. The lien created by the assessment runs with the land, and any portion of the assessment that has not yet become due is not eliminated by foreclosure of: (i) a property tax lien, or (ii) the lien for any past due portion of the assessment.

3. Financed C-PACE Measures Improve Properties, Often Reducing Maintenance and Repair Costs

Energy and resiliency measures improve the efficiency, health, and comfort of a building making it more attractive to tenants and future owners. It also increases the property's taxable value. C-PACE projects make good business sense for the property owner because they are improving their assets, and therefore the property's mortgage lender has improved collateral.

4. C-PACE Financing Does Not Restrict a Senior Lender's Foreclosure Rights

Unlike other debt, C-PACE does not require an inter-creditor agreement. Rather, in the event of a default on the senior lender's debt, the senior lender can foreclose on its mortgage interest in the property in the same manner as if it were the sole financing on the property. C-PACE does not affect any existing remedies under the loan documents. The C-PACE capital provider may not prevent, restrict, or otherwise impact the senior lender's foreclosure.

What else should your financial institution know?

The property owner has indicated their intention to apply for C-PACE financing for the improvements outlined in Exhibit A. The Assessment is to be levied on the property pursuant to an agreement between the property owner, the capital provider for the C-PACE improvements, and the local unit of government processing the tax assessment.

Upon the recording of the C-PACE assessment, all existing mortgage debt on the property will be subordinate to the C-PACE Assessment. The local unit of government, or its permitted assignee, can foreclose the C-PACE Assessment encumbering the property if the C-PACE assessment is not paid. C-PACE Assessments cannot be accelerated. Senior lenders are only behind the annual assessment payment and not the full balance of the financing.
